Tutt's Liver Pills

ALL THE MAN'S FAULT.

But of Course He Is Mean Enough to Claim It Isn't.

There is an Oak Park man who is saying mean things about woman's chirography.

Last week business detained him in Chicago the greater part of the day. While taking his lunch he received a note from his wife.

"Don't forget G loves," he read, and no matter how often he reread the scrawl it was always the same:

"Don't forget G loves."

"What in the dickens does Martha mean?" he mused over his soup bowl. "Who is G, whom does G love and what have I to do with the whole affair anyway?"

Then he attacked the hot soup until it burned his tongue.

"G-G," he pondered; "George, Gresham, Grove! Surely she can't be alluding to any of them, yet it looks as though it might be important for her to take the trouble to send a note down here."

Finally he gave it up and went down town. That evening the first thing he said was, "Martha, who is G, and whom does G love?"

"G? I'm sure I don't know, William."

"Don't know? Didn't you write down to me that G loves?"

"Yes, here is the note. Read it yourself."

She did, and then came the storm. "Well, of all the stupid!"

"Martha!"

"Not a word! Your ignorance is inexcusable. Can't you read? Here! 'Don't forget G loves'—that's what I wrote! Don't forget G loves! I even put a capital to make it plainer. How many times have you tied knots in your handkerchief to remember those gloves? How many times have you stalked home without them? That is why I sent the note right down, so you couldn't forget them. That clever will dispose of them as unclaimed articles. 'G loves,' indeed!"

Now her husband says instead of a gold watch he will make a typewriter her birthday present. He doesn't care to have his peace blasted by a woman's careless scrawl. (Chicago News.)

A Hero.

They were sitting around telling of their experiences in courtship days.

"Well," said one smooth fellow, "I've proposed to at least half a dozen women."

"Four is my limit," said another. "One was enough for me," ventured a third modestly.

"Pshaw," said the first one, "you haven't any nerve at all!"

"Haven't I?" contended the modest man. "Haven't I? Well, I married her, and I've been living with her ever since." (Detroit Free Press.)

A Sad Mix Up.

"Do you wish to ruin me forever?" said the poet to the editor.

"Why, no! What could have put such an idea into your head?"

"Didn't I call my recent poem 'The Wine Accusor'?"

"You certainly did."

"And didn't it come out in your miserable paper as 'The Wine-wine'?"

"Hanging that proofreader!" exclaimed the editor. "I'll have him to hand at a hotel in future." (Atlanta Constitution.)

A Woman of Influence.
"My wife is a wonderful woman."

"Ever write a book?" "No." "Play, perhaps?" "No." "President of a woman's club?" "Wrong again." "Has political aspirations?" "Not one."

"Then for goodness sake what's wonderful about her?" "We live in a flat, and she succeeded in having our janitor discharged." (Philadelphia Record.)

TAYLOR REFUSES TO RATIFY AGREEMENT

Governor Says He Wants Time to Consider It.

LOUISVILLE CONFERENCE

Seven Republicans and as Many Democrats Sign a Paper Which May Bring About a Settlement—Backham to B. Chief Executive.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 6.—Governor Taylor has refused for the time being, at least, to sign the agreement reached last night in Louisville. He was closeted for a long time this morning with General Daniel Lindsay, T. L. Edelen and T. H. Baker of Louisville, and finally told the gentlemen that he wished time to consider and would let them know when he had reached a decision.

Mr. Baker, after leaving the conference, was asked his opinion of the probable result and replied:

"I hope and believe that everything will be settled peaceably."

The others expressed a similar opinion, although all of them stated that they were giving personal opinions and not speaking in any sense for Governor Taylor.

The news of the agreement reached last night in Louisville was received with great relief in Frankfort. The strain of the last ten days has been very great and any lessening of tension was most welcome to members of both parties.

Not a single member of the legislature, Democratic or Republican, is in the city and none are expected before late in the afternoon or tomorrow.

Governor Taylor refused to discuss the agreement until it had been brought to him. He said it was neither right nor courteous for him to do so. He, however, made the assertion that if the Goebel law was repealed and an election law given to the people of Kentucky which would insure a fair and honest count of the votes as cast, he would allow no personal ambition of his own to stand in the way of a peaceful adjustment of the troubles.

It was 10:30 o'clock before Judge Yost and Mr. Sweeney, the Republican attorneys, arrived from Louisville, where Daniel Lindsay of Louisville being with them. They had the agreement and carried it at once to Governor Taylor's office and the door was locked upon all outsiders.

It was generally believed that Governor Taylor would accept the agreement, although he had given no positive assurance that he would do so.

Agreement Signed.

A peace conference held at the Galt House in Louisville last night between seven representatives of the Republican party and seven representatives of the Democratic party resulted in the signing of an agreement embodying six specific propositions, which promise a settlement of the party differences which have brought about two state governments in Kentucky. This agreement is in substance as follows:

1. That if the general assembly in joint session shall adopt a resolution ratifying their recent action adopting the contest reports seating Goebel and Beckham, the contestees, W. S. Taylor and John Marshall, shall submit without further protest.

2. That all parties shall unite in an effort to bring about such a modification of the election law as will provide for non-partisan election boards and insure free and fair elections.

3. That conditions shall remain in statu quo until Monday, the general assembly meeting and a four day from day to day until that time.

4. That nothing shall be done to hinder or prevent a joint session of the general assembly for taking action on the ratification resolution.

5. That the state contest board shall meet and adjourn from day to day until Tuesday without taking any action on the contests for minor state offices. This postponement is suggested in order that the action of the general assembly on the ratification resolution may be taken first.

6. That the state troops shall be removed from the state capital at once, through with all necessary precaution for the public safety.

7. That the Republican officials and officers of the state guard shall have immunity from charges of treason, usurpation, governmental or any other such offenses.

8. The agreement was signed by the following:

Republicans—John Marshall, Judge W. J. Barr, General Dan Lindsay, T. L. Edelen, Dr. T. H. Baker, David W. Farleigh, T. C. Bullard.

Democrats—J. S. C. Backburn, J. C. W. Beckham, Sam J. Snodgrass, Urey Woodson, James B. McCreary, Phil Thompson, Robert J. Breckinridge.

Taylor's Attitude.

The agreement in full was not given out last night, as it was desired first to submit it to Governor Taylor for his signature. It was stated by the Republicans present that Governor Taylor would agree to anything that all of them signed.

It was stated in the conference that the London session of the general assembly would be called off at once.

The conference began at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Galt House and lasted until 2:30 o'clock this morning, when a typewriter was sent for and the agreement was prepared and signed.

Until Monday, while the situation is in statu quo, Governor Taylor will remain in possession of the executive buildings, while the Republicans will recognize Governor Beckham as governor.

After the conference Governor Beckham at once took a train for Frankfort. Senator Beckham and ex-Governor McCreary remained in Louisville over night.

The course of events in the immediate future is uncertain.

An Important Influence in shaping the Republican policy has been, no doubt, the lack of support from the national administration for the course pursued by Governor Taylor since he assumed office.

The latest manifestation of feeling at Washington is the following telegram from Senator Deboe, which was in the hands of the Republican conferees before last night's meeting:

"The unanimous sentiment here is that you are wrong in preventing the legislature from meeting, and that you should submit the disputed questions to the civil courts. Federal assistance cannot be given you on your requisition so long as the legislature is in session or can be convened. There is no doubt but it can be convened if you will permit. The Democrats intend that if any violence occurs, you shall be the aggressor. You will by forcible resistance alienate all who formerly sympathized with your case. No assistance. Answer."

BODY REACHES COVINGTON. Funeral Instead of Reception Planned by Goebel's Friends.

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 6.—The special Goebel funeral train arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning from Frankfort. It consisted of a baggage car with the casket and floral tributes, a coach for the pallbearers, judges of the appellate court, legislative committee and others and a Pullman with the relatives.

It was an impressive scene when the casket was removed from the Capitol hotel at Frankfort. The hearse, followed by carriages and many pedestrians, proceeded under the electric lights to the special train, which left at 4 a. m. on the morning journey.

In anticipation of Goebel's interment in his Covington friends had been arranging for a grand reception, about this time, on his first return as governor, instead of a funeral. On the train were those who had breakfasted with William Goebel one week ago today, and they said no man could have been more cheerful or hopeful than he.

Although the train made no stop except at junctions, yet there were groups at the stations along the way to see it even in the darkness of the wintry morning.

The demonstration in honor of Goebel in the city and county which he had represented in the state senate for 12 years was peculiar and simple. A large detail of police was stationed about the depot and another detail kept the streets clear from the depot to the Odd Fellows hall, where the body lies in state.

It was impossible to estimate the number of people along the line of march and at Odd Fellows hall, during the first hour after the arrival of the funeral train, but only a small portion could gain entrance during the early hours under the guidance of the officers.

The remains lie in state here until 10 p. m. and then they will be in charge of a guard during the night and be conveyed back to Frankfort by special train for the funeral at that place on Thursday.

Testimonial From Judge Gaston.

GREENVILLE, Ala., Aug. 10, 1899. I take great pleasure in certifying to the purity and the merit of Wilkinson's Matchless Mineral Water. This natural mineral tonic, to my personal knowledge, is taken from a well three miles east of Greenville in the exact condition in which it is sold. I have seen this water used with wonderful success, for dyspepsia, indigestion, sore throats and for eruptive diseases, sores and ulcers on man and animals. As a remedy for these troubles I do not believe any other exists. It is highly recommended by physicians for a number of diseases.
